About This Game

Yeah it's time, the time every now and then happens every decade. The hell needs a new leader, and what would be better than to choose it with a battle?

In Demon Horde Master you fight your opponent in a 1-on-1 strategy card game with your own army of demons through which you cast your powerful magic and defeat your opponent to become the new leader of hell!

But you should decide your steps carefully because your Enemy may have the right spells to counter your tactic and win the match. And you should trust us when we say you don't want to lose a fight in the depths of hell! On the other side, the lower Demons are always hungry and the losers of the match are a cheap meat source...

This game is Multiplayer only. There is no provision for playing single player.
This basically ended my interest in what was an otherwise interesting-looking game.

It might not be for everyone, but be warned; starting up the game, it asks you for a server name you wish to be matched up with opponents on. It doesn't give you a list, so, unless you are a dev, you don't know what to write in that textbox, and you'll never, ever actually find an opponent to play with.

Best of all, once you discover all this, there's no obvious indicator as to how to close the program. You can't seem to do it once the program is running.

I got sucked in by the cool-looking video and an introductory sale.
Learn from my mistake.. pretty good game
